Italian association files criminal accusations against Italian Minister of Health

The Italian Vicit Leo association, an organisation whose members are specialists operating in the fields of law, natural science, and ethics, has announced that it has filed criminal complaints with the Court of Rome against the Minister of Health, Roberto Speranza, and against representatives of the Technical Scientific Committee and the Higher Institute of Health. The association, which is closely associated with Monsignor Carlo Maria Viganò, accuses Speranza and others of very serious crimes committed during the COVID-19 emergency.

Vicit Leo had intended also to pursue criminal charges against directors and employees of the World Health Organisation operating in Italy but the WHO, a United Nations body, is claiming diplomatic immunity for its employees.

In July 2020 Vicit Leo hosted a press conference in Rome entitled 'Delenda WHO' (The WHO must be destroyed). Journalists from the Italian State broadcaster RAI were present at the event and later began their own investigation based on evidence presented by conference speakers. The result of their investigation aired in a major TV documentary at the end of November called 'La consapevole foglia di fico'.

Following this documentary and presumably in light of Vicit Leo preparing to pursue criminal charges against the 'Health Dictatorship', a number of people who work in various capacities alongside Vicit Leo have suffered dawn raids, and general harassment and intimidation, from the police and other official bodies on spurious grounds.
